DATES

Registration: 27 Sep

Report: 4 Oct

Presentations: 6 Oct onward

You are required to write a report about a topic that is related to a social aspect (e.g. human interaction, communication, empathy/understanding others etc.) which is derived from a book (e.g. Biography, Novel, Play etc.). You must have already read the book or should read it as part of the assignment. You can not copy a summary from the internet for this purpose. Plagiarism will result in straight zero both in report and presentation.

Please go to the following link to register for the assignment. Your registration will be reviewed and approved before you start working on the assignment. The sooner you register the better.

Your report will be evaluated on the following points

1. Summary highlighting capturing the points related to the social aspect you have chosen (1 page max)
2. Highlight the lessons learned about the social aspects. Quote actual text from the book to support your points (1 page max)
3. Describe how can YOU utilize the lessons in your professional life. You can describe scenarios in which you can apply the knowledge. (1 page max)

Prepare a 5 mins presentation.

The presentation will be evaluated both on content and delivery style.

Content: The quality of the content and how it is arranged/presented for easy understanding.

Delivery: Clear voice with low and high tones for stressing important points. Effective introduction to grab attention of the audience. Making sure people are with you and engaged during the presentation. Closing with conclusion.
